Commies Erect Iron Curtain Inside Berlin

West Germans Told Special Pass Needed To Enter Big City

BERLIN (AP) — Communists erected an iron curtain against West Germans inside Berlin today.

In a new challenge to the West, the East German regime forced West German visitors to get stamped passes for entry into the Communist sector of the divided old capital.

The move defied the four-power agreement for free movement that even the Soviets have respected since the four powers took over in the summer of 1945.

Ludwig Erhard, acting head of the West German government in the absence of vacationing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, rushed by plane to West Berlin. He charged the Communists with committing "a striking breach of law."

Erhard, who is vice chancellor and minister of economics of the Bonn government, was met at the airport by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. They went into an immediate conference.

The travel restrictions went into force at midnight and were gradually tightened at main crossing points between the two sectors of the city.

The action by the Soviet satellite regime had the effect of making West Germans get "passports" to cross into East Berlin.

The West Berlin city government of Mayor Willy Brandt charged the move was part of "a planned long-term campaign which considerably sharpens the situation."

West German diplomats in Washington suggested Nikita Khrushchev may try to create a new Berlin crisis timed with the Soviet premier's appearance before the United Nations.

A U. S. spokesman in Bonn denounced the travel curbs as a violation of the agreement between the West and the Soviet Union on "freedom of circulation within greater Berlin."

"We are consulting with our allies," the U. S. spokesman said.

The East German order requires citizens of the West German Republic to get special passes to enter the Communist sector of the city. It does not apply to Germans who live in Berlin or foreigners.

There were no reports of any interference with road or rail traffic over the 110-mile stretch from the West German border to this isolated city, such as marked the 1948 blockade.

The Communists could be making a maneuver to test out the West's reaction.

The East Germans appeared encouraged by the success of the five-day ban they imposed last week on West Germans entering their sector during conventions in Berlin of refugees from the Communist.

Canton Bank Thug Subject Of Manhunt

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Police and the FBI issued a warrant today charging Harry E. Highfill, 32, with robbing a branch of the Canton National Bank of $53,556 Wednesday.

A statewide alert was put out. Capt. Frank Burnosky of the Canton Police Department said the robber was reported to be using a two-tone blue 1951 Ford when last seen.

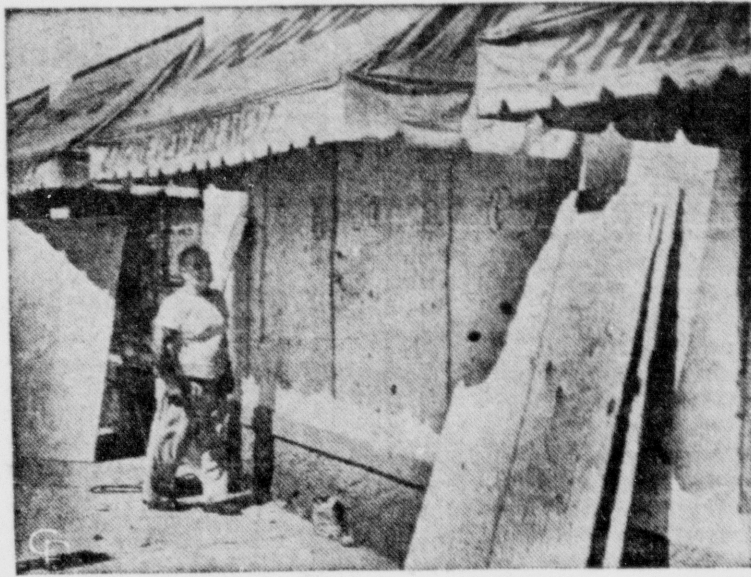

The 5-foot-5 gunman, clad in blue tweeds and a blue straw hat, wore adhesive strips over his face during a five-minute holdup.

Burnosky, without giving details, said authorities learned Thursday Highfill was the man they were looking for. He is believed to have been in the Canton area for two or three days before the robbery and was reported to have been seen with a Massillon woman.

Before that, said Burnosky, Highfill had been seen in Centerville, Delaware, Springfield and Columbus.

Prominent Protestant Clerics Squabble Over Religious Issue

NEW YORK (AP) — A Liberal party statement authored by two prominent Protestant ministers accuses Dr. Norman Vincent Peale of "blind prejudice" in his attitude toward Sen. John F. Kennedy's Roman Catholic faith.

Dr. John C. Bennett dean of Union Theological Seminary, and Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, vice president emeritus of Union, both vice-chairmen of the Liberal party, prepared the party statement issued Thursday.

"We believe that Dr. Peale and his associates, though they recognize bigotry, show blind prejudice because they see the Roman Catholic Church at all points in terms of the worst elements in its life, and that they show no understanding of the developments within Roman Catholicism in many Democratic countries which are favorable to religious liberty to all," it said.

The Liberal party statement referred to a meeting of 150 Protestants from 37 denominations presided over by Dr. Peale in Washington Wednesday. The group contended a Roman Catholic president would be "under extreme pressure by the hierarchy of his church."

Dr. Peale, a supporter of Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, later issued a separate statement.

"After serious and may I say prayerful thought and with no repudiation of my personal conviction I have come to the conclusion that the public agitation of religion as an issue can only be divisive and therefore in the long run harmful to our country," he said.

Dr. Peale said the religious issue will "no doubt be a factor" in deciding voters and that "it should be a matter of personal conscience." He added, however, that his sermons will be "scrupulously without political overtones."

The Liberal party which exists only in New York state, has endorsed Democratic presidential candidate Kennedy.

Meanwhile, Kennedy backers started circulating a collection of his stated views on separation of church and state.

In total effect it is a series of denials that the Democratic nominee for president would be under church control in actions as chief executive.

The document came to light after a conference here in which about 150 invited individuals from 37 Protestant denominations had agreed on a statement that a Roman Catholic president would be under great pressure from the hierarchy of his church in both foreign and domestic affairs.

But Kennedy aides specifically deny that it is a direct reply to the statement from that group. The meeting of Protestants occurred here Wednesday. Democratic headquarters says circulation of the Kennedy statements began last Friday.

The leaflet does, however, bear on most of the points raised in the statement from the Protestant group headed by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York author and minister. That statement in turn amounted to a synthesis of questions raised recently in various Protestant quarters.

The leaflet covers 11 questions related to the religious issue including the general subject of birth control, an ambassador to the Vatican, federal aid to parochial schools, the position of the Roman Catholic hierarchy on union of church and state, and the disputed oath attributed to the Knights of Columbus.

Ohio's Roman Catholic governor, Michael V. DiSalle, has called for a retraction from Dr. Peale.

DiSalle attacked a statement issued by the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom. DiSalle contends the statement implies he had some responsibility for a state attorney general's ruling with regard to the employment of Catholic nuns as public school teachers in Ohio.

Home Slated for Negro Family Badly Burned

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A vacant house in a racially mixed neighborhood was badly damaged by fire early today only hours before it was to have been sold to Negroes, police said.

Neighbors told officers they heard a "boom" and the fire spread rapidly.

Police said the five-room house, in the northeast section of town, would have been the first on the block to be occupied by Negroes although Negro families live in the next block.

Investigators said they learned Philmore had met Mrs. Finney at an East Side restaurant where she worked as a cashier. Her husband intercepted the Philmore car as the two sped north on Lake view Road.

Optimism Up For Accord in Pennsy Strike

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Optimism mounted today for a settlement of the Pennsylvania Railroad strike.

Both union and management negotiators have been summoned to a joint meeting by a federal mediator who indicated both sides were closer to an agreement than ever.

Francis O'Neill chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, called the negotiators to the joint session after talking Thursday night with union officials.

His action came as pressure grew from industry and public officials to end the walkout which is beginning to cut into the nation's economy. Some groups urged government intervention.

Meanwhile, the chief negotiator for the two unions on strike reported for the first time that some progress has been made.

"The Pennsylvania Railroad is moving in the right direction," said Edward W. Wiesner, chairman of the System Federation Union which has joined the Transport Workers Union in seeking work rules changes to insure job security.

It was the first public complimentary remark made by an union official since the strike began on a bitter note Sept. 1 and idled all of the PRR's 72,000 employees from New York to St. Louis.

Wiesner's negotiators worked into the early hours of the morning studying counterproposals made by the railroad Thursday night to a "rock bottom" offer by the unions.

No one would divulge the proposals.

But Wiesner did say "there still are some differences, but we're a little closer than we were Wednesday."

He had expressed hope for a joint conference, saying that "a break may come."

Michael J. Quill, the president of the TWU who has been the unions' chief spokesman most of the time, stood by, further postponing a trip to New York and a tour of the PRR network.

Some 15,000 members of Quill's union and 5,000 members of the System Federation all non-operating employees, are on strike.

Conservancy Judges Meet In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Judges of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District are meeting here today in what may be an all-day session reconsidering the court's previous action to dissolve the district.

The session was called by Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Myron B. Gessaman, presiding judge of the district court, at the request of Mayor Ralston Westlake and commissioners of Franklin, Pickaway and Ross counties.

The district voted Dec. 29, 1958, to dissolve the 17-county flood control group because "nothing was done since the district's formation in 1934." Voting to dissolve the district two years ago were Franklin, Crawford, Fayette, Delaware, Highland, Madison, Marion, Sandusky, Marros, Seneca, Union, and Wyandotte counties. Voting to continue the district were judges from Pickaway, Pike, Ross Scioto and Vinton counties.

The Development Committee for Greater Columbus has gone on record advising that the district be retained but reduced substantially so as to make it workable.

Freak Mishap Kills Man

Belgium Gets U.N. Warning, U.N. Gets Congo Warning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dag Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, has warned Belgium against tampering in the muddled affairs of the Congo. And the U.N. itself has received an ultimatum from Congo to yield control over the Congo's radio and airports or get out of the country.

At the same time, Lumumba was reported to have launched his long-heralded invasion of Katanga province.

U.N. Mali troops based at Kolongo, a Katanga town about 30 miles south of the Kivu border, said 300 or more Congolese soldiers made the crossing Thursday.

Katanga government sources claimed, however, that the invaders failed to get any vehicles across the Lukuta River and were stopped without a fight.

Invasion of Katanga would broaden a civil war in which Lumumba proposes to crush secessionists and other challenging his rule. Hundreds have already died in the fighting.

Hammarskjold, under fire from several directions in the United Nations' role in the former Belgian colony, leveled a stern warning Thursday night to Belgian U.N. Ambassador Walter Lorian.

The secretary general said he had received confirmed reports that nine tons of weapons were unloaded Wednesday from a Belgian Sabena Airlines plane at Elisabethville Airport in the secessionist province of Katanga.

He asked Lorian whether the Brussels government had authorized the sending of weapons to provincial authorities.

"Should this be the case," Hammarskjold said, "the secretary general would consider it necessary to make a formal serious protest."

Hammarskjold, under attack from the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba, sought council action to halt the flow of outside aid to the battling Congo factions.

The call presumably was directed against both Belgium and the Soviet Union.

Moscow has been sending planes, troop carriers and technicians to Lumumba who is fighting Congolese dissidents.

The secretary general has also called on the 11-nation council to provide $100 million to help the infant nation get its bearings.

The council was expected to meet Saturday in a session that may run well into the night.

Hammarskjold has insisted the U.N. operation in the Congo must remain nonpartisan and has pro-

Religious Heckler Handed Sharp Answer by Kennedy

WITH KENNEDY in California (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy ran into heckling on his Roman Catholic religion today as he whistled down the San Joaquin Valley.

A throng at Modesto cheered the Democratic nominee loudly as he answered sharply a religious question thrown at him from the crowd at the conclusion of a train rear platform talk.

An unidentified spectator asked Kennedy if he believed all Protestants were heretics.

"No," Kennedy replied. "and I hope you don't believe all Catholics are."

"May I say that it seems to me that the great struggle today is between those who believe in no God and those who believe in God," Kennedy said.

"I really don't see why we should engage in close debate over what you may believe and what I may believe. That is my privilege and your privilege."

Kennedy pushed his campaign down toward night rallies in Los Angeles with a full-dress talk on peace prepared for a Fresno appearance.

He charted six "pathways to peace" which, he said, can be followed only by breaking with the past and changing the national administration.

Kennedy said none of the suggestions he is making to assure the peace involves any easy effort.

Kennedy said, however, he is not suggesting that either political party has a monopoly on the desire for peace.

"There is no one 'party of peace' in this country, just as there is no single 'war party' or 'party of appeasement'," he said.

Kennedy said that to gain peace America must have a defense posture strong enough to convince any potential aggressor that war would be "a mistake—his mistake."

He said potential aggressors have to be convinced this country has the power even after it has been attacked to win a war.

Secondly, Kennedy said the next president should establish a national peace agency to direct efforts toward disarmament, arms control and atomic testing curbs.

He said peace requires that the United States stand shoulder to shoulder with other free nations "united by close ties of friendship, commerce and mutual respect."

Kennedy called for a massive effort by the free nations to strengthen the political and economic independence "of those nations emerging on the bottom half of the globe—to prevent in those countries the chaos and despair on which Communist expansion feeds."

Another requirement, Kennedy said, is for "positive American leadership in a more effective United Nations working toward the establishment of a world wide peace under law, enforced by world wide sanctions of justice."

Finally, he continued the best way to arouse world opinion against Soviet exploitation of satellite nations is to eliminate "unconscionable exploitation of human beings in this country."

Khrush Enroute To Prosecute U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, heading a big delegation of Communist brass, left Moscow today to prosecute "American aggression" personally before the United Nations.

One of the Soviet leader's final efforts before departing got the leader of the African republic of Guinea lined up behind the U.S.S.R. on the Congo.

He pulled out all stops in heralding the accord he reached with Sekou Toure during the Guinea president's two-day visit to Moscow.

Toure, who proclaims himself a Marxist but not a Communist, said he would attend the U. N. session opening in New York Sept. 20 and presumably will support Khrushchev on African questions.

Keys Residents Alerted for Booming Tides

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Weather Bureau hoisted hurricane warnings in Miami and Fort Lauderdale today as hurricane Donna churned a turbulent 200-mile-wide path near the south Florida mainland.

Storm forecaster Bernie Moore said Miami and Fort Lauderdale were expected to be in only the edge of Donna's hurricane-strength winds. The center of the storm, with the highest winds estimated at 150 miles an hour, was still expected to pass through the Florida straits south of Key West.

The Miami area probably will experience top winds of 75 miles, and those only in gusts, the forecaster said.

In an emergency warning to residents of the Keys—the long chain of islands extending south and west from the Florida mainland—the Weather Bureau said tides would increase to heights of six feet above normal at Key West, a city of 45,000 and site of a large naval base.

Tides elsewhere in the keys will range up to 11 feet, the morning emergency bulletin said.

"It is extremely urgent that all places within reach of these tide levels be evacuated immediately," it added. "Some low-lying roads will be covered by water and this will cut off escape if evacuation is delayed."

Even six-foot tides would inundate a large part of the Keys.

As the huge hurricane lumbered slowly toward the Florida Strait, separating Florida and Cuba, increasing winds and rain squalls spread across south Florida. Sporadic squalls began soon after

Water Supply Running Low

Unless it rains soon, Circleville residents are in for some restrictions on water use.

Today Ervin Leist, city utilities manager, requested those residents who use city water to curtail sprinkling of lawns.

He suggested that residents with even house numbers water lawns on even-numbered days, and those with odd house numbers water on odd-numbered days.

Water supply is such, Leist said, that a serious fire would result in a large loss, due to lack of water. He reported that the city is pumping an average of 1, during the present hot spell, during the present hot spell.

Leist declared that at high peaks the city is pumping water faster than it is collecting water.

posed disarming non-U.N. military units in the country as a step to restoring order.

Emboldened by the 41-2 confidence vote the Senate accorded him, Lumumba moved swiftly toward a showdown with the U.N. Congo command.

In rapid succession he:
1. Accused the U.N. of obstructing his government by closing airports and radio stations and called for withdrawal of U.N. forces unless the command changes its policies.

2. Threatened to "break off relations with the United Nations, Great Britain or any other country" if the "campaign of hate against the Congo" does not stop.

3. Sent Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld a telegram asking that the next session of the Security Council on the Congo issue be held in Leopoldville.

4. Thanked the Soviet Union "sincerely for the help it has given the Congo."

Shouting out his demands at a hectic news conference Lumumba declared: "The interference in the internal conflicts shows the position taken by the representatives of the United Nations in the Congo against the central government, which enjoys the confidence of the Parliament of the nation."

"Considering that the central government is capable of assuring the protection of life and property throughout the national territory with the collaboration of the African nations, (it) envisages the retreat in the immediate future of the armed forces of the United Nations in the event they continue to obstruct the action of the government as they are at present."

Lumumba told newsmen a letter he sent to the U.N. command in Leopoldville demanded that the Congo's airports be opened and the national radio returned to the government.

The U.N. command made plain it had decided to take a stronger hand under its Security Council mandate to prevent the Congo's drift toward total civil war. Previously it had attempted to preserve strict neutrality in the Congo's internal affairs.

Observers predicted any move by Lumumba to take back the radio stations or airfields would meet stiff U.N. resistance.

NEW YORK (AP)—Speculative interest spread to a wide variety of issues as the stock market moved to the upside in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.00 to 218.00 with the industrials up 1.60, the rails up .90 and the utilities up .10.

Advances running to about 5 points for Polaroid and Lehn & Fink highlighted a widening of trading interest in the livelier stocks.

Nothing much in the business news helped spark sentiment but the market was close to the support level from which prices rebounded thrice previously this year.

The market had a mixed opening then jogged to the upside. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.07 at 613.49. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Loot Heavy In Entry at Williamsport

A considerable amount of loot was taken Wednesday night from the Whiteside Hardware Store in Williamsport, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department reported today.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said a 22 caliber automatic rifle and a large quantity of 22 caliber cartridges were included in the theft.

Deputy Radcliff said entry was gained by breaking and scraping molding from a rear window section. He said the burglar or burglars left the building by unbolting a rear door.

According to Deputy Radcliff, Whiteside said loot included the rifle, 2,000 rounds of 22 caliber ammunition, a 22 caliber cartridge belt, a pocket warmer, a weapon recoil pad, two hammers, two pairs of cloth gloves, a staple gun, a blow torch kit and one roll of 50 pennies.

THE burglary was discovered by Mrs. Paul Whiteside when she opened the store for business yesterday.

Deputy Radcliff said an agent from the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation was called to the scene.

Again this year fund headquarters will be in the American Hotel. Dr. Phillips announced today that several training sessions have been arranged. For the Residential Division there will be sessions for solicitors at 1:30 p. m. September 20, at the home of Mrs. Walter Heine, 109 E. Mound St.; 9:30 a. m. September 21, at the same place, and at 8 p. m. September 22, at the home of Mrs. Gene Barthelmas, Sharon Road and N. Pickaway St.

A session for county solicitors is planned for 8 p. m. September 20 at the General Electric cafeteria conference room.

More than 500 citizens of the county will be involved in the massive fund raising campaign. They will expend time and effort in contacting their neighbors regarding Pickaway County Community Fund gifts.

Keys Residents

daybreak and gusts of wind approaching 50 miles an hour were recorded by midmorning in Miami.

Storm forecasters said winds will increase with each passing squall along the Keys and the southeast Florida coast.

By tonight, they said, Key West and adjacent Keys will be hit by 125 mile winds, with even higher gusts.

"Sustained winds in Miami late this afternoon and early this evening should reach 40 to 50 miles per hour with momentary gusts to 60 to 70."

Hurricane warnings were in effect from Key Largo 45 miles south of Miami, to Key West and the Dry Tortugas. A hurricane watch continued from just south of Cape Canaveral southward over Florida to Fort Myers on the Gulf of Mexico.

Heavy squalls with considerable local flooding was forecast for the interior of Cuba with possibly gale force winds and high tides on the south coast of the island.

As the storm's first hard blows were delivered on Cuba, flood waters destroyed about 80 houses in the coastal community of Gibara. More than 3,000 persons were evacuated.

Hundreds of families in eastern Cuba sought refuge in schools and churches.

The 1958 ruling which amplified a 1933 opinion, held that it is not illegal for nuns who are public school teachers to wear the habits of their order in their classrooms.

The statement to which DiSalle objects concerned itself primarily with the presidential candidacy of Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy.

DiSalle, an early and ardent supporter of Kennedy for the presidency, asserted he sees in the statement "a danger of grave harm to the democratic system of government."

DiSalle pointed out that the 1958 ruling was issued by former Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, a Republican before DiSalle was elected governor. He quoted the ruling as stating explicitly that local boards of education might hire teachers of their own choosing and the fact that they wear a particular garb did not exclude them as teachers."

DiSalle pointed out that in Ohio the attorney general is an elected official in his own right and not responsible to the chief executive. Formal opinions issued by the attorney general have the force of law, traditionally unless and until they are upset by the courts.

"Yet the impression left by the Peale group statement would be, if left unchallenged, that only since I became governor has this practice been permitted."

"I believe Dr. Peale and his group owe me an apology and a public retraction circulated just as widely as the original."

God's Hand in History

THE NATIONS OF THE EARTH ARE UNDER THE ULTIMATE SOVEREIGN POWER OF GOD

Scripture—Isaiah 10:5-34; 11:2; 37:21-37.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"INASMUCH as our lesson has to do with the threat made by Assyria, we should refresh our minds on the position of that mighty empire. Assyria was that territory along the middle Tigris river, the capital of which was originally Asshur. The name, however, is often applied to the entire area conquered by Assyria, at one time extending to the Mediterranean."—quoting from Peloubet's Select Notes, written with helpful comments by the Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith.

He continues, "At the time of our lesson, Assyria is again in the ascendancy. With the advent of Tiglath-pileser III (746-728 B.C.) the second Assyrian empire began. He was followed by Sennacherib (722-705 B.C.) and the man who plays such an important role in Israel's history at this period, Sennacherib (705-681 B.C.)."

God's sovereignty over nations is illustrated in His dealings with Assyria. Isaiah 10:5-34. Three basic truths are contained in this passage: "God will use Assyria in punishing His people Israel; then He will punish Assyria because of her boastfulness; and, finally, He will bring back a remnant of Israel to the land of promise."—Peloubet's Select Notes.

Angered by His people's disobedience and indifference to Him, God used Assyria in punishing Israel. "Ho Assyrian, the rod of Mine anger, and the staff in their hand is Mine indignation. I will send him."

root downward—and bear fruit upward; "the zeal of Jehovah of Hosts will perform this."—Isaiah 10:12.

Zennacherib had threatened to destroy the city of Jerusalem, but the Lord God said: "Concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there . . . By the way he came, by the same shall he return, and not come into the city. For I will defend this city to save it for Mine own sake, and for My servant David's sake."—Isaiah 33-35.

Today, in what we like to think of as a civilized world, there are still wars raging somewhere. When will peace come to all lands? We must trust in God and pray for peace.

School Year 1960-61 may be termed part two of education's evolution in the United States. Part one being the radical transition occurring between World War I and the present, during which the one-room localized school house gave way to consolidated multi-community structures and the elementary subjects of education were dwarfed by the sciences.

No clear-cut pattern has appeared to indicate the avenues to be outstanding during part two, but the multitude of experiments being conducted this term for the first time testifies to the eagerness of educators to explore fully the potential of the classroom.

A survey by the National Education Association of innovations being offered has uncovered a wide range of new teaching and administrative methods, all designed to improve the quality of teaching. Almost from community to community there is a dissimilarity in pattern of educational emphasis, but it is this wide-ranging experimentation which promises a rewarding finale to this school year.

From a longer day (both high schools and elementary grades in various parts of the nation are offering school days of seven or eight hours) to a longer continuity in specialized courses (Highland Park, Ill., will begin teaching Spanish in kindergarten and continue it through eighth grade), plans for developing a better educated graduate.

Teachers will have daily classes in elementary subjects in New York and Detroit to keep their talents sharp, three 11-month terms replace the traditional four-year high school in Mineola, N. Y., and special squads of teachers will man school-rooms in slum areas of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Milwaukee and other cities in an attempt to reduce disciplinary problems and instill a desire to learn.

These are only some of the more revolutionary ideas being tried, but throughout the nation schools are bubbling over with enthusiasm for journeys through unexplored paths. Tomorrow's methods will emerge from the trail blazing now under way.

Remarks To Irk Hat Check Girl

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that hat check girls get tired of hearing:

"You still here, Gloria? I thought you'd have a movie contract by now."

"I'm coming in tomorrow night with a client I want to impress. There'll be an extra two bits in it if you'll remember to call me by my first name. It's Joe."

"Here's a nickel for my hat, young lady, and a nickel for you."

"You got change for a twenty, kid? I gotta make a phone call."

"Yeh, she does look a little like the Mona Lisa — but she looks even more like Whistler's mother."

"Put your smile on, Gloria. Here come the customers."

"I hear she's working her son's way through college—or is it her grandson?"

"Don't think her tips don't add up. I hear she's a silent partner in Standard Oil."

"You'll have to put this one on the cuff, baby. The smallest I've got is a $10 bill."

"I know you usually get two bits a hat, but I'm wearing a cap today. Is fifteen cents okay?"

"I guess I get in on a free pass tonight, Gloria. I left my hat in the office."

"I came by to pick up the hat my husband thinks he left here last week. I don't know the size or style, but you ought to remember my husband. He's small, bald, has a mole on his right cheek—and pinches every girl he meets."

"Could I also please check my rubbers, this package, my umbrella, these flowers for my wife, my briefcase, my raincoat, this newspaper and—"

"Seen any pitch helmets lately?"

"How about me picking you up when the joint closes, and then we can park my hat in your house?"

"Whaddaya say, baby?"

"Is that wedding ring you're wearing a prop—or is it for real?"

"Do you have special rates for the clergy? No, I'm not a minister. I was just curious."

"I do her dental work. When she smiles, take a good long look at her left bicuspid. I'm pretty proud of that."

"Let's play nursery games. You be little Red Riding Hood—and I'll be the wolf."

"I bought this hat for $7.50 in 1955. I been eating here twice a week for five years, and each time it has cost me 25 cents to check my hat. You know what that adds up to? It adds up to $130. It's an outrage!"

"Sure it's okay to give her a Canadian quarter. She's got a cousin in Ontario."

Khrush, Moa Have Differences

By George Sokolsky

Nikita Khrushchev likes to talk. He delivers speeches and talks to all and sundry. He is not the man of mystery that Stalin was or the remote philosopher that Lenin was. I heard Lenin speak on several occasions; he was not an orator: nothing like Trotsky who could make the rafter ring, Khrushchev is a bit of a clown. He knows how to make an audience laugh, he can stick the knife in deep and then pour salt into the wound.

There is a record of more than 40 occasions on which Khrushchev threatened nuclear destruction of some countries or of the whole world. Among the recipients of these threats have been Denmark, France, West Germany, Greece, Iceland, Iran, Italy, Japan, the Sweden, Turkey the United Kingdom and the United States. He has also threatened to use rockets against the United States if we protect ourselves in Cuba.

Meanwhile he conducts a running argument with Mao Tse-tung that he does not need war at all; that the capitalist countries will collapse from their inner degeneration and waste; that all that the Communist countries need do is to sit back and wait; that the next stage in civilization is Communism as indicated by Marx and that it cannot be otherwise. Mao Tse-tung desires that the force of the Communist and Socialist states be mobilized now in a war with the capitalist states.

Mao's argument is that imperialism has collapsed. The empires of Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Spain and Italy have disappeared; that Asia and Africa have been liberated. Nevertheless, the greatest of all imperialist countries, the United States, survives. Whereas the United States does not practice imperialism, it does use economic imperialism to dominate all the Western countries and it interferes with the Marxist Revolution. Therefore the United States must be destroyed by war and pronto.

Khrushchev regards Mao Tse-tung's ideas as horsefeathers because he advocates a theory of competitive co-existence by which he means that Soviet Russia and its satellites and the United States and the Western powers will be unfriendly and friendly intermittently, competing for control, and that whichever will win will win. Khrushchev's expectation is that Communism must inevitably be victorious in this competitive contest.

Mao Tse-tung wants Russia to fight the war. Mao can, of course, provide manpower if it be needed. Long ago, he said that China could lose about half its population for the Cause. Nevertheless, the next war, as the last two general wars, will be won in factories and by means of communications; in this respect, Soviet Russia is superior to Red China and therefore it is up to Soviet Russia. Khrushchev comes of Russian peasant stock, from a people who calculate closely.

Whereas Khrushchev in his oratory threatens country after country with destruction, he knows full well that if he starts anything, the entire Soviet Universal State will go up in smoke and that there will be the end of the great Marxist experiment.

He will therefore not let Mao get him involved in war at this moment. Threats — yes; war — no! If Mao wants war, let him do his own fighting. So Khrushchev is withdrawing his experts and advisers from Red China. They are returning to Soviet Russia by the trainload. This does not mean war between Red China and Soviet Russia. It does mean that Mao Tse-tung is unwilling to pursue Khrushchev's policy of competitive co-existence which means an avoidance of a fighting war while living under the constant threat of war.

The test of strength within the Communist world will appear in the satellites. Mao Tse-tung is undoubtedly seeking to win as many of the satellites to his side as he can get. His ideas are popular in East Germany which would prefer to gobble up West Germany and to spread out from there. At one time, Poland was influenced by Mao, but the Communist position there is weakened by increasing resistance among the people. Czechoslovakia prefers Khrushchev's concept, particularly as it is the greatest steel complex in the Soviet world.

It is going to be a competition within the Soviet Universal State between Mao and Khrushchev for power. Mao needs a war to absorb Japan, the whole of Korea, Burma, Vietnam — in a word, to reach the outermost Chien-Lung Line. Khrushchev needs his kind of peace to consolidate the strength of Soviet Russia.

Eighty-five parents and their families, managers and sponsors turned out for a basket picnic supper held Saturday evening at the Ashville Park to honor the 1960 Teay's Valley Little League baseball teams.

The league was made up of six teams and more than 90 boys participated during the summer months.

An inter-squad game was played at 4 p. m. followed by the picnic at 6 p. m. Then Felix Dore, league president explained the results of the league to the parents and presented awards.

The championship trophy, donated by the Ashville Community Club, was presented to the Pritchard Insurance team which won both rounds. Individual sportsmanship awards, chosen by the team members went to Rick Pickering of the B & C Oil Team and Bill Dore of the IGA Team.

Officers elected for next year are Felix Dore, president; Lester Noggle, vice president; Mrs. Lester Noggle, recording secretary; and Lucile Harris, treasurer.

This community project, starting from scratch this year, has been one of the finest to come along for several years. The community should recognize that it has taken a lot of time and energy for a few men to mold and develop 90 young boys into a well run summer league.

Hot Tin Roof Really Hot

CRICKHOWELL, Wales (AP)—A tin-roofed movie theater caught fire at an army camp Wednesday night soon after a showing of the Elizabeth Taylor movie "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shades

—but only minor shades—of 1952? Just about this time eight years ago in the 1952 presidential campaign Republicans had hit on a theme to get them votes and beat the Democrats: It was "Reds in government" under the Democratic administration.

Now under the Republican Eisenhower administration two employees of the highly secret National Security Agency—William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell—have defected to Russia and bobbed up in Moscow.

And in the midst of the 1960 presidential campaign the Democratic-run House Committee on Un-American Activities will begin this month an investigation to find out how the two men got into government under a Republican administration.

The whole problem of rooting out subversives out of government has quieted down in recent years. And, just because it has, this flareup is unlikely to be anywhere near the size of the issue of 1952.

For two years before the 1952 campaign Sen. Joseph McCarthy had troubled and aroused the nation with his one-man hunt for Communists in government and his sly insinuations against some of the most highly placed people.

For instance: His references to Secretary of State Dean Acheson as the "Red Dean."

In addition to McCarthy's efforts, the nation had been shocked by the Hiss case, developed principally by the work of Richard M. Nixon, then a California congressman on the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Alger Hiss, once highly placed in the State Department and one of those who accompanied President Roosevelt to Yalta, had been linked with a Soviet spy ring and, before the 1952 campaign began, had been found guilty of perjury.

Even presidential candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower looked upon the "Reds in government" theme as a legitimate issue, for said he felt free anytime to denounce the "infiltration of subversives" into government agencies.

But there is a difference now. There has been no steady buildup that could make the country feel very uneasy and suspicious any widespread infiltration. There hasn't been any talk. There hasn't been any McCarthy laying the foundations.

President Eisenhower at his news conference on Wednesday, didn't blink at the idea that Communists may be sneaking into the government.

"I recognize," he said, "that even in government, although government employment is a privilege and not a right, that the rights of the individual must be respected but he—his incident, I believe, should be a lesson to all of us that we must never cease our vigilance in the large and small places at any time."

DiSalle Books New Jersey, Illinois Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle plans to leave the state twice next month, to make campaign speeches in Illinois and New Jersey.

He said today that he has singled out those invitations from numerous others because of his high regard for Sen. Paul H. Douglas, who is running for re-election, and because "there are some spots in New Jersey where I can be helpful (to Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy)."

"October is going to be terribly crowded," DiSalle said, pointing out that he has received 82 invitations to speak in and out of Ohio. As soon as plans for visits to Ohio by Kennedy and vice presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson are more complete, DiSalle said he will reply definitely to the Illinois and New Jersey invitations.

In Illinois, he said, he would travel with Douglas, campaigning both for Douglas and Kennedy in Chicago, Joliet and Kankakee. DiSalle also spoke for Douglas in 1954. He said Douglas' invitation mentioned Oct. 5 or 8.

The New Jersey invitation, with no specific date, came from the Young Democrat organization there. DiSalle said he thinks Kennedy can carry the state. He mentioned Jersey City and Oranosa possible stops, and added: "I know a lot of people in New Jersey."

Wall Street's Pessimism May Be Overdone

Cautious Observers Say It's Too Soon To Declare Recession

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street could be overdoing its pessimism just as business overdid its optimism at the turn of the year.

Industrial and financing statistics have been giving the stock market little to cheer about of late and stock prices have been bid down.

But those who are as cautious about pessimism as they are about optimism say it's much too soon to jump to conclusions and consider a recession a shoo-in.

The stock market is often a sensitive reflector of business sentiment. But some think it's too sensitive. They feel it swings too easily to extremes.

And outside New York there's a strong tendency for businessmen to feel that the New York industrial and financial community as a whole is too volatile, too easily swayed by passing news items. The rest of the nation is slower to go overboard for either extreme pessimism or optimism.

The bearish-minded have had plenty of statistics to point to of late. It's their interpretation of them that's in question.

Consumer spending hasn't been increasing at its old pace. Industrial output hasn't recovered its zip. Factory unemployment is still high. New orders for durable goods have been lagging. And in the nondurable sector orders have slowed down after a long period of strength. Industry has trimmed a bit its plans for spending on plant and equipment.

But the traditional summer lull could account for a lot of that. And a normal reaction from last winter's abnormal buildup after the steel strike could account for more.

Plus factors that many count upon to give the economy at least a mild boost soon include: Signs that in many industries stocks have been cut back to near bottom levels, meaning that new orders should soon be forthcoming; easier money should help—it's always a bit slow in catching on; housing observers think building may have seen the worst of the drop and be ready to recover, although probably not notably until next spring; the auto industry's troubles—high stocks of unsold 1960 cars and the seasonal model changeovers—may be ready for improvement before long.

Ohio Idle Claims Still Fluctuating

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The ups and downs in Bureau of Unemployment Compensation claims continued for the week ended Sept. 3, with new claims going up and continuing claims going down.

The bureau said here were 16,214 new claims filed in the week compared with 15,732 the previous week and 22,927 in the week ended Aug. 20. Continuing claims of these unemployed one week or more totaled 106,180 in the week ended Sept. 3 compared with 112,163 in the week ended Aug. 27, and 108,360 on file in the week ended Aug. 20.

The average number of new claims filed weekly in September of last year was 8,591, and that of continuing claims on file 46,501.

The Circleville Herald, Fri. September 9, 1960 5 Circleville, Ohio 'Winds of Change' Blow over Africa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The "winds of change" are blowing over Africa with unspent force, sweeping in one of the most momentous revolutions in history.

By the end of this year 180 million of the Dark Continent's 240 millions will be under Negro rule. The colonial structure shaken by World War II is rapidly crumbling.

Africa is really divided into two parts—North Africa and Black Africa below the Sahara.

The early postwar years brought independence to all North Africa except Algeria where Nationalists are waging war against the French.

With Britain granting self-rule to its Gold Coast colony (Ghana) in 1957, the floodtide of freedom began to roll over the entire continent.

It is still rolling.

Fourteen new nations have come into being since January and two others are only weeks away from independence to make a total of 26 sovereign African nations.

Before World War I there were only two—Ethiopia and Liberia, the latter created and protected by the United States as a haven for former slaves. Ten years ago there were only four.

Idaho Negro Family Leaves After Abuse

BURLEY, Idaho (AP)—A Negro family of 10, objects of threats and abuse for more than six months, has abandoned its shantytown home in this southern Idaho farming town.

Potato plant worker, A. J. Thomas, 43, sent his wife and eight children away last Friday, a few hours after a burning oil flare was thrown onto the porch of their $35-a-month shack. He continued working until Tuesday, then followed them.

No one will say where they went except to say they are in New Mexico.

Thomas told police the flare was thrown from a car which circled the house several times while he and the family covered inside. Police said that last February a bullet was fired through a bedroom window of the Thomas home. Mrs. Thomas had told friends that teen-aged whites had threatened to burn the house. And, she said, the daughter of a prominent Burley man had thrown firecrackers at her children, aged 8 to 16.

City editor Gayle Norton of the Burley Herald-Bulletin said it all began after rumors circulated that potato processing plants planned to import Negro labor.

But Norton said he didn't know why the violence was aimed at Thomas.

William Reid, a segregationist who was a neighbor of Thomas, told the Twin Falls Times-News of a recent attempt to force Negroes out of the neighborhood. But four other Negro families still live in the area and they have not been bothered.

New Navy Ear May Detect Tidal Waves

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP)—The Navy's new underwater ears, now used to spot the impact of missiles fired from the West Coast, may someday detect destructive tidal waves.

A Hawaiian scientist's proposal that a Navy network of hydrophones in the Pacific do double duty has aroused considerable interest at Pacific Missile Range headquarters here.

Doak C. Cox, head of the Hawaii Geophysics Institute's tidal wave research program, came up with the idea after learning underwater listening devices had been installed near the island of Oahu to pick up sounds generated by nose cones fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

A Navy spokesman said the idea is workable but would require funds not now available in the budget.

Listening devices have been installed on the ocean floor near Oahu, Eniwetok, Wake and Midway islands, he said. At present they are monitored only at the time of missile firings.

Colorado Offers Color On Driver Licenses

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A touch of color is going to be added to the drivers' licenses issued to Colorado motorists.

Color photographs will adorn the licenses just as soon as equipment can be installed, says William Cassell, chief of the State Motor Vehicle Division.

The colored pictures cost a penny more per license, he explained, but will be used because they can't be forged like black and white pictures can.

Fausnaugh Pair Celebrates Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT FAUSNAUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fausnaugh, near Stoutsville, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday.

The family attended church together at the First English Lutheran Church, Lancaster and at the noon hour held a dinner in the party room of the Jo-Kar Restaurant.

The couple was married September 4, 1910 in the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. Homer Bosserman officiating at the ceremony.

Mrs. Fausnaugh is the former Edith Cook, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cook, Amanda.

The Fausnaugh's are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Noble (Helen) Barr, Circleville and Mrs. Lewis (Berenice) Seimer, Lancaster. They also have two grandsons.

Those who attended Sunday for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Noble E. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Seimer and sons, Neil and Robert and Miss Priscilla Bressler. Mr. and Mrs. Fausnaugh are active members of Israel's Lutheran Church, Amanda, and have lived their entire married life at their present farm home near Stoutsville. This farm was established by the first Fausnaugh family when they came to Ohio from Pennsylvania. They have spent the entire 50 years engaged in farming.

Refreshments were served in the evening at the Seimer residence, from the dining room table centered with a four tiered wedding cake. A crystal punch bowl was used, that was a gift to Mrs. Fausnaugh from her husband before their marriage.

Mrs. Heckert, emphasized that the container of a paired arrangement need not be identical, but should harmonize. The flowers within the arrangement should be within the same color scheme. Gourd containers were used for arrangements at the afternoon session.

Those who attended were: Mrs. Theodore Huston, Mrs. Schubert Measamer, Mrs. Luther Bower, Mrs. Richard Heckert, Mrs. C. P. Heiskell, Mrs. John Mast, Mrs. L. S. Foreman, Mrs. Jacques Sweeney, Mrs. Doyle Painter, Mrs. George Lawson, Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mrs. Shelby Teegardin, Mrs. Turney Pontius and Mrs. Dunkel.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Take Choice: Past or Future

DEAR ABBY: I am 51 years old and have had a few dates with a widow woman who is a little bit older. I tried to put my arm around her and she stopped me—saying it wouldn't be fair to her husband who has been dead for 21 years. I don't expect her to forget him altogether as I wouldn't want my wife, who has been dead for 9 years to forget me, but my question is, hasn't she waited long enough? Also, should I keep trying?

BART

DEAR BART: This woman is living with a memory, and apparently she likes it that way. If you are looking for a nice sisterly companion, she'll do. But if you have other ideas, you'd better find a live one.

DEAR ABBY: Recently you said some of the new hair-do's looked like an "unmade Army cot". There are five of us guys here on Guam who want to know how YOU would know what an unmade Army cot looks like.

SNOOPY

DEAR SNOOPY: My husband was in the Infantry in World War Two, and he described it to me.

DEAR ABBY: I am expecting a baby soon. If it's a boy I would like to name him after my husband, whose name is Bill. The only trouble is that there are so many Bills in our family already. My father's name is Bill and my small brother's name is Bill. My husband's father is also Bill and there are three cousins named Bill. All the Bills are not called Bill. There is "Little Bill" (my Bill) and "Billy Boy" (my kid brother) and "Big Bill" (my father-in-law), so I would appreciate your opinion on this matter. Thank you.

PAULA

DEAR PAULA: If you want to name your baby after your husband go ahead and name him "Just Plain Bill". Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: The TV set is our problem. Now don't get me wrong. We have a TV, too, and we enjoy it, but when somebody walks in, we turn it off. When we drop in on our friends they have their TV going full blast and no one makes a move to turn it off. So you try to talk over it and that isn't easy. Your friends have one eye on the TV and one ear on what you are saying. This sometimes goes on for 2 or 3 programs. How can we handle this problem without hurting anybody's feelings?

STILL FRIENDS

DEAR STILL: Call in advance and make a definite date to visit your friends—then you won't run the risk of conflicting with their favorite TV programs. People who "drop in" have no right to expect undivided attention.

County Infirmary Has Own Supply of Canned Goods

An ample supply of canned goods is safely tucked away in the basement of the Pickaway County Infirmary on Route 22 east of here.

Mrs. Muriel Ott, superintendent of the old folks home, is in the midst of her annual canning season which always results in row after row of delicious looking packed food fresh from the garden.

Mrs. Ott is ably assisted by her ladies staff of veteran canners, including Miss Marie Smallwood.

With the canning season just getting a good start, Mrs. Ott and her assistants already have a large infirmary storeroom nearly filled with products from the garden.

ALTHOUGH the ladies said "we're not even half-done yet", they have packed 139 half-gallon jars of green beans, 100 half-gallon jars of tomatoes and 45 half-gallon jars and 20 quarts of pickles.

The women said more products would be canned as the harvest season progresses.

Mrs. Ott said all the canned goods are raised at the infirmary. She said her packing season usually starts with greer beans and continues until about time for frost.

Putting fruits and vegetables away in jars is not the only economical activity at the Infirmary. A large upright freezer in the basement is choked full of fresh corn, peas, lima beans, green beans and blackberries.

Across the room are two more chest type freezers brimming with poultry and other meats, products of the infirmary.

The canned goods and frozen foods are consumed daily by inmates of the home. These resourceful methods of storing food means the Infirmary isn't required to purchase more than a dozen meals per year.

MRS. OTT said her kitchen help is always busy canning in the summer months in addition to their regular cooking tasks. She said the Infirmary currently cares for 33 persons, a figure which is a little below the normal average.

The cooking and canning is conducted in two kitchens in the basement of the Home. Cleanliness is the by-word in the entire area.

Priest, College Dean, Big Businessman Cited for Vice

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—Dist. Atty. George Lawler said today that nine men—including a Roman Catholic priest, the dean of men at Carroll College and an oil company executive — have been charged in connection with homosexual activities at a city park.

The prosecutor said a comprehensive investigation has been under way for the past month at the park, which he said apparently has become known throughout the Midwest as a gathering place for homosexuals.

Asked if the nine—plus a prominent Milwaukee dentist arrested at another small park in this city of about 30,000 on the western edge of the Milwaukee metropolitan area—represented most of those involved, Lawler said: "Our information is that there are more. We will press our inquiry fully."

Only those apprehended in the act were charged with sexual perversion, Lawler said.

They included Boyd Burnside, 53, dean of men at Carroll College; Robert Hopson, 43, executive of the Hopson Oil Co., and Melvin Kocien, 24, a teacher.

Others similarly charged are Dwaine Books, 23, Alexander Haynes, 39, and John W. Beyer. Charged with disorderly conduct "with sex motivations," the prosecutor said, are the Rev. George Huber, assistant pastor of the Church of St. Peter and Paul, Milwaukee; Dale Meyer, 37, and William Hockett, 22, Milwaukee.

Hockett, Haynes and Beyer have pleaded guilty and been committed to the Rogers Memorial Hospital psychiatric center. The others have been arraigned

Illinois Generally Rated As Top Team in Big Ten

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois generally is accepted as the No. 1 football championship choice in the Big Ten this season.

This is although the Illinois two fastest halfbacks, Johnny Counts and Gary Kolb, were summer losses. Counts flunked out and Kolb signed a professional baseball contract.

Also missing is All-America line-backer Bill Burrell graduated.

"I think we fell into the top spot by accident," says Pete Elliott, molding his first Illinois team from 24 returning lettermen, 22 holdover squad members and 30 sophomores.

"Some of those rankings were

Tigers Ready For Starter at Paint Valley

The Circleville Football Tigers will put into use all they have learned in the last three weeks of practice when they kick the lid off the season tonight at Paint Valley.

The Tigers, primed for the opener, hope to do a repeat of last year's 34-16 victory over the Bearcats. The kickoff is set for 8 p. m.

Coach Carl Benhase has not announced a definite starting lineup, but it seems to be safe bet that the offensive "Go-Tigers" will see the services of Jake Bailey and Alex Cook at ends, Bruce Dresbach, Gary Harrison and Vern Reichmanus at tackles, John Williams, Danny Moffitt or Tom Bivens at guards, Steve Helwag at center, Phil Wing, Chuck McDowell and Freddie Moore at halfbacks, Rupert Rudd at fullback and Bob Waple and Pat Rooney at quarterback.

The Tigers probably will face a more seasoned and able team than the one which played here last year. The Bearcats have a solid passer and runner in Quarterback Mac Vore, plus the services of several other veteran backs.

RUDD probably will handle the punting and kickoff duties for CHS.

The Circleville force ran through a light practice on the varsity field yesterday in final preparation. They were decked out in all red suits which will be the uniform for tonight.

U.S. Cagers 'Cinch' To Win Olympics

ROME (AP) — America's basketball team appeared a lead pipe-cinch today to win the Olympic championship.

It needs only a closing victory over Brazil Saturday night for an 8-0 record. And, unless the Americans try playing only four men at a time there should be no concern about the United States dropping its first Olympic decision, or even losing the gold medal.

The Americans Thursday night shook off a stubborn Italian team, 112-81, after leading only 54-48 at halftime. Ohio State's Jerry Lucas was the big gun, scoring 26 points — 20 in the first half.

That was the fifth time the high-gear U.S. club has surpassed the 100-point mark and it was its second highest score of the Olympic competition. The Americans trounced Japan 125-26.

Russia Thursday night wore down a spirited Brazil team 64-62, which gave the Soviets a 1-1 record in the four-team scrap for the top four positions. Brazil also is 1-1 while Italy is 0-2 and the United States 2-0.

If Russia beats Italy Saturday night, then the United States could lose to Brazil by 22 points and still win the gold medal.

However, if Italy beats Russia, then the following USA-Brazil game is a head-to-head affair with the winner taking the championship.

The average January temperature in Montreal is 13 degrees.

made before anyone was sure Counts would not be back," he adds. "Without him we do not have an exceptional breakaway back and it changes our dimensions. The conference will have fewer problems setting a defense against us because Counts had been a major factor in how they were going to try to do it."

However, Elliott, who came to Illinois from the head job at California and at 33 is the youngest coach in the Big Ten, probably has fewer problems than his colleagues.

Illinois' brightest spots are at fullback, quarterback and tackles. Elliott may have the best pair of fullbacks in the country — brothers Bill and Jim Brown.

Bill, 22-year-old captain, is a 211-pounder who led the team last year in rushing 5.7 average rushing yardage 504, points scored 36 and punting average 39.3. He keyed Illinois' wind-up victories over Wisconsin and Northwestern by smashing a combined total of 20 yards. It gave the Illinois a third place tie with a 4-2-1 record.

Jim, a 208-pounder currently handicapped by a broken left hand averaged 4.2 yards per crack as an alternate for his brother.

At tackle are Joe Rutgens, a 245-pound senior and an outstanding All-America candidate, and another senior, 256-pound Cliff Roberts. Roberts so far has missed practices with a pinched shoulder nerve, and Darrel DeDecker, 232-pound senior, has taken his place. Both are 25-year-old former Marine sergeants.

The top two signal-callers are back — tough 5-foot-8, 156-pound John Easterbrook and Mel Meyers. Both are exceptional runners as quarterbacks and competent passers.

Holding down the starting end positions are Ed Osradovich, 6-3, 222 pounds, and Ernie McMillan, 6-6, 236 pounds. The two juniors probably are the biggest pair of ends around. They are fine blockers and improving as receivers.

The only sophomore who may make the starting grade is end Thurman Walker who can catch passes and has the speed to go all the way. He stands 6-3, weighs 206 and is from El Dorado Ark.

Competition is keen for the center job—held last year by Dave Ash—among juniors Stan Yukevich and John Kruze and senior John Stapleton.

Leading candidates at guard are Pat Lennon, Joe Wendryhoski, Tony Parrilli, Gary Brown and Joe Geraci—all lettermen.

Installed in Counts' left half job is Joe Krakoski whose hard running made him the sensation of spring drills. He was injured much of the time as a sophomore and did not play much last year, having yet to win a letter.

The right halfback chore can be handled by senior Marshall Starks or junior Ethan Blackaby. The former is a good pass receiver. The latter also catches passes well and has speed with power.

The two fastest halfbacks on the squad possibly are sophomores Norm Willis of Dayton, Ohio, and Ken Zimmerman.

Prairie Chicks Open Keg Tilts

Toots Peterson's 160 was high in individual game as the Prairie Chicks opened their Thursday afternoon bowling league at Prairie Lanes yesterday.

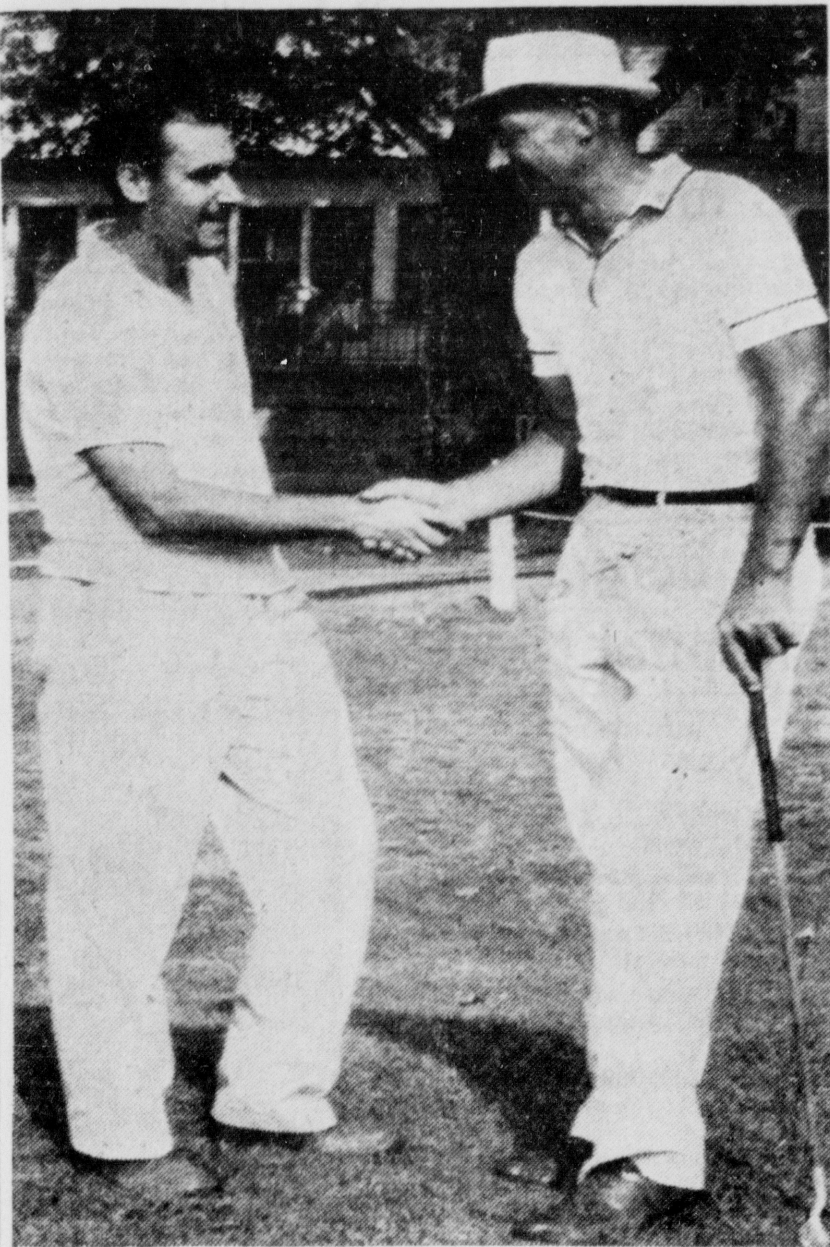

Louise Radcliff turned in high individual three games with 401 pins.

High team single game was posted by Circleville Motors on a 601 finish. The Motors team also was high for three games with 1,675 pins.

Paul Brown Wants Victory for Birthday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown would like no better birthday present from his Cleveland Browns than a victory over the Chicago Bears in Saturday night's exhibition clash at Akron's Rubber Bowl.

Brown reached his 52nd birthday Wednesday, but there was no celebration. Work went on as usual at the practice session at League Park.

20 Lettermen Boost Hopes For Minnesota in Big Ten

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A veteran squad that includes 20 lettermen boosts Minnesota's hopes of finishing in the first division of the Big Ten football race this season.

"We have more experience and more depth, and we hope to be faster generally in the line," says Coach Murray Warmath, whose Gophers wound up last in the 1959 conference campaign with a 1-6 record.

Of the lettermen, 10 were starters or regulars last year. Despite the seasoned agenda, two sophomores may break into the starting lineup and several others must be dovetailed into it under the two-platoon system to give the added speed in the line that Warmath plans.

The best rookie back is Bill Munsey at right half. He is 5-11, 192 pounds and was routed to Minnesota from Uniontown, Pa.

"Munsey likely is the best sophomore I've had in seven years," says Warmath. Currently, Munsey is listed on the second team behind senior Bill Kauth.

Top sophomore lineman is tackle Bob Bell, a 6-4, 216-pounder who played fullback in high school at Shelby, N. C. Bell is among five newcomers who have been converted from fullback to linemen in an effort to insert more nimbleness in the front wall.

The others are tackles Ron Otson, 204 pounds, and Pete Bergman, 220, and ends Bob Prawdzik, 205, and John Campbell, 195.

"The key to our success this season," says Warmath, "is whether or not the fullback shifts into the line can become effective fast enough, and if our quarterbacking has improved enough to play winning football."

The three veteran quarterbacks are Sandy Stephens, Larry Johnson and Joe Salem. "Stephens is a quick runner but so far is a thrower instead of a passer," evaluates Warmath. "Johnson is a drop-back type of passer but is only a little more accurate than Stephens. Salem has a good mind and is a deceptive ball handler. If I could tie all of them into one man, I would have a good quarterback."

Senior Roger Hagbera is the No. 1 fullback at present, backed by two other seniors, punting specialist Tom Robbins and Jim Rogers. At left half is junior Judge Dickson, a strong runner who averaged 4.3 yards a carry and never was thrown for a loss last season. Junior Dave Mulholand is behind him.

At ends are senior Dick Larson, who has shown improvement defensively, and junior Bob Deegan. But a lot will be seen of Tom Hall, who in 1959 as a sophomore caught 22 passes against Big Ten opposition for 322 yards.

Robbin Teller, 221-pound junior, and senior Tom Brown, outstanding 238-pounder, have the guard positions under control. Captain Greg Larson nails down the center spot and Frank Brixius, a 262-pound senior, has a starting tackle assignment.

New Pro Grid League To Open Play Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The fledgling American Football League tries its wings, talent and gate appeal "for real" tonight when Boston and Denver kick off the season.

The drawing board plans, player acquisition, training camps and exhibitions are history. The test begins at revamped Boston University Field.

The other six members of the new professional loop—competing for the public dollars with the established National League—swing into action later this weekend.

Scioto Meets Grid Warfare With Capable Squad of 25

Scioto Twp. High School and its squad of 25 grid players are set to forge into 11-man football season for the first time.

The Buffaloes, drilling long and hard to overcome the newness of 11-man football, open their season September 23 at Carroll.

Coach Joe Corbett said his first unit will have good size, but not the weight average drops in the replacement list.

Coach Corbett said the team will have fair overall speed. He said his fastest runners are at the halfback posts.

"LACK of experience and depth

FRESHMEN on the roster,

and the small number of players currently pose the biggest problem," Corbett said.

Coach Corbett and assistant Charles Baxter both commended the Buffaloes for their high morale and ready desire to play 11-man football for the first time.

Returning lettermen from the 1959 six-man squad are Mike Little, Phil West, Joe Synder, Larry Hancock, Sam Abrams, Maryland Johnston and Bob Whiteside who was named captain of last year's All-County six-man second unit.

Russia Seeks To Fatten Its Olympic Point Bulge

ROME (AP) — Soviet Russia, its gold medal and team point leadership over the United States assured, looked to more of the so-called minor sports it excels in today to fatten its domination of the 1960 Olympic Games.

The first results of the day gave an indication of what was to come. In the first quarter-final match of the team epee fencing tournament, the Russians quickly advanced to the semifinals with a 9-2 victory over Germany. Italy beat Sweden 9-3 and will meet Russia in the semis.

With track and field ended except for Saturday's marathon race, the day's Olympic schedule showed competition in shooting, gymnastics, weightlifting, horse-manship, and fencing—sports in which the Soviets have been scoring well and regularly.

Shooting finals were scheduled in clay pigeon and rapid fire pistol with Russians leading at the halfway mark in each. The only U.S. possibility was Marine Capt. Bill McMillan of Turtle Creek, Pa., who was second at the midway point of the rapid fire pistol. Lt. Jim Clark of Bartlesville, Okla., was fifth at the same stage in the clay pigeon event.

Both Capt. McMillan and the leader, Russia's Evgeniy Cherk-sov, were running ahead of the world and Olympic record pace. Except for McMillan and John Kelley's demote hopes in Saturday's marathon, America's only other gold medal of the games which end Sunday would come from the unbeaten basketball team, which won its seventh straight game, 112-81 over Italy Thursday night.

A victory over Brazil would clinch it for the all-star club coached by California's Pete Newell.

The track and field games wound up Thursday in a surge of glory for some of the Americans and a day of doom for one.

Wilma Rudolph, Clarksville, Tenn., anchored the U.S. women 400 meter relay team to her third gold medal of the 1960 Olympics, placing her in a select class with all-time greats.

But her boy friend, Ray Norton, of Oakland, Calif., ran outside his zone of limitation in taking the baton in the men's 400 meter finals and the Americans were disqualified after it appeared they had beaten the Germans.

For Norton it was the climax to a dismal flop. He ran last in both the 100 and 200 meter sprints—the man rated on form to be the top favorite.

Wilma emerged the top star. She won the three gold medals the U.S. women collected to go with the men's nine. The Russians got 11 track and field firsts, six by their women, a sizeable dent in what the Americans once considered their own back yard.

The disqualification, though, spoiled what would have been a rousing finish for Uncle Sam. The men's 1600 meter relay team raced to victory in a world record of 3:02.2, breaking Jamaica's eight-year-old mark of 3:03.9. Jack Herman, Woodland, Calif., did 46.7, Earl Young of San Fernando, Calif., 45.6, Glenn Davis, Columbus, Ohio, 45.5 and then Otis Davis, the new 400-meter king from Los Angeles, clocked an anchor leg at 44.4.

Davis had to run the fastest 400 from a moving start in world track history to beat Germany's Carl Kaufmann who was second in 44.5.

With the Olympics drawing to a close Sunday, the unofficial team title once more seemed to be Russia's with 34 gold medals and 618 points. The United States had 32 gold medals and 511 1/2 points.

Bums Stumble To 7-4 Win Over Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Neither club being able to go very far in what's left of the baseball season there was visible evidence in the grandstand Thursday night that the word champion Dodgers (in fourth place) and Cincinnati's Reds (in sixth) were playing for the birds.

Los Angeles won 7-4, leaving the Reds a 12 games to 10 advantage for the year. For 8 1/2 innings one very disgusted-appearing pigeon sat among 4,604 paying customers, then as if by magic, it left well ahead of the final out.

Long before, the Dodgers had put the game on ice by scoring four runs in the first inning and three in the second. Starter Jay Hook didn't retire a man—and put five on base before he was lifted in favor of Joe Nuxhall. The first four of the same group got on base in the second, each in identical fashion as Walter Alston's crew completed their scoring for the night.

Caude Osteen, a Cincinnati port-sideer not too long out of high school, came on in the third and after catcher Joe Pignatano singled in the fifth, retired 11 men in order. Osteen allowed two hits in five innings, fanning three. Bill Henry took over in the ninth.

Vada Pinson's 19th homer of the year in the sixth, and a triple by Gus Bell, Wally Post's single and Cliff Cook's third homer as a big leaguer accounted for three more in the eighth.

The early American race track was any convenient parcel of level land over which a race path could be marked out.

Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees began 1960 with a career record of 24 American League shut-outs, three more than Bob Turley.

673 Ohio High School Grid Teams Poised for Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school footballers head tonight into the longest campaign in their history.

More than 25,000 youngsters will appear on the 673 teams, and some will play 11 contests before the curtain falls in late November. Of the competing schools 648 will play the regulation 11-man game, 18 will use six players, and 7 will operate under the eight-man rules. Due to consolidations, the 11-man field gained nine teams, and the six-man group lost 14.

Innovations are numerous this season. The starting practice date has been set permanently for the third Friday in August, and the opening game or pregame for the first Friday after Labor Day. Previously the first games, or the multi-school exhibitions, were banned until the second Friday after Labor Day, the new rule allowing the addition of a game to the slate.

"We are not alarmed over the number of schools playing 10 games," Commissioner W. J. McConnell said as he awaited the weekend kickoffs.

"But both the football coaches' association and the state board of control frown on 11-game schedules, and a limit of 10 probably will be applied after this year."

Physical fitness programs held at most of the schools during the summer have helped get the athletes in shape. Footballs and basketballs are barred at the out-

NO GIANT STEPS FOR HIM—Injured in an exhibition game, Alex Webster, star halfback of the New York pro football Giants, is in a New York hospital with a knee injury which is expected to keep him out of action for three weeks.

Ashville Band Wins Contest

The Ashville - Harrison Football Band won first place at the West Jefferson Ox Roast and Band Contest Sunday.

Although eight bands were scheduled to participate in the day's activities, only four attended. Bands presenting marching shows were Jefferson, Madison South, Pleasant View and Ashville-Harrison. Four band directors from the Columbus Public School system judged the event.

The band will make its first public appearance Friday night at the Ashville - Amanda football game. The tilt will be at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

This is the second year for an Ashville Football Band and the first year the unit has used commercially prepared shows. Band director Pangburn promises a pleasant surprise for music enthusiasts this season, according to school officials.

In Hospital 32 Years

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — Craig Little entered Mary Black Hospital here in 1928 after he was paralyzed from the waist down following an illness. He has left the hospital grounds only once in the 32 succeeding years.

The chipper 72-year-old made that one venture to the outside on July 4, 1960, as a special holiday celebration.

After Long Summer Drought, TV Starting To Show Life

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP TV-RADIO WRITER

After the long summer drought, the channels of television are beginning to fill up again. Not only will the annual girl-watching show, the Miss America Pageant, turn up again on the home screens, but we'll be seeing the first episodes of three new series and some special programs as well during the next seven days.

The annual crowning of Miss America will be shown Saturday night on CBS and will, as usual, pile up one of the year's big ratings.

Earlier (9-9-30) NBC's new western series "The Tall Man," will bow in with Barry Sullivan playing the law man and Clu Gulager the outlaw.

On Sunday, there will be the national tennis championships from Forest Hills from 5 to 8 p. m. on NBC, concluding just in time for Vice President Richard M.

Nixon to appear on "Meet the Press."

Monday night there is the premiere of "Presidential Countdown" on CBS, a series of half-hour shows designed to keep the nation posted on the progress of the campaign. Tuesday night marks the debut of NBC's "Thriller" series (9-10) with the first show called "The Twisted Image."

ABC's Wednesday evening musical hour will be "Football Kick Off" — 1960 (7:30-8:30) with emphasis on songs, dancing and grid stars. And for those who prefer other sports, there is the premiere of CBS' "Aquanuts" at the same hour — this is an hour long facsimile of "Sea Hunt," but with two divers having adventures instead of one.

And all along the way there are season premieres of old shows, among them "Have Gun, Will Travel," "Lassie," and "Bachelor Father."

Views on Television-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP TV-RADIO WRITER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The faithful Saturday night audience probably is not aware of it, but over the past three years that grim and steely avenger of the Old West, Paladin, has been turning into a terribly nice guy.

At least, that's what Richard Boone says and as star of CBS'

"Have Gun, Will Travel," he ought to know.

"The character has developed a good deal," reflected Boone. "He had acquired a sense of humor, for one thing. He's not as arrogant as he used to be. His constant emphasis on money has disappeared. And we've been putting some lemon in what started out to be a pretty saccharine view of the Old West."

Paladin in fact, has become such a jolly fellow that soon there will appear on our screens an episode of "Have Gun, Will Travel," which is pure, flat and broad comedy—about baseball. It will come along in the schedule, naturally, around World Series time.

Boone, incidentally, is one of a mere handful of actors who have moved from one successful series into another: He went from playing a modern doctor in "Medic" to the present series. He says that he has planned things carefully so that there is no danger his own professional identity will be sunk in the part of Paladin.

NBC may frown on the insertion of plugs on its shows, but a lot of puffs are getting on the network with official blessing. Dave Garraway, for instance, has had two interviews that I've seen—with Howard Duff and Barry Sullivan—which were nothing more or less than long, undisguised plugs for upcoming NBC series—and not during station-break or commercial times, either.

The saddest moment in the other night's Miss America parade in Atlantic City was when in the brief moment she was on the TV screen, the little drum major-ette of a high school band dropped her baton.

Hayes Says Bucks To Be Speedy '11

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes told a group of touring Big Ten sports writers Thursday that the Buckeyes will have their speediest squad since 1955. He also said it's possible that seven to nine sophomores will play on the first two units.

Hayes said his best players are quarterback Tom Matte of Cleveland, fullback Bob Ferguson of Troy and linemen Mike Ingram of Bellaire and Jim Tyrer of Newark.

After the squad put in a rugged morning workout and a light afternoon session, Hayes commented: "The rough work has just about reached a point of diminishing returns."

Roger Detrick of Ohio State set a Big Ten record when he carried the ball 33 times against Michigan in 1959.

Oriole Chief Needs Help To Win Pennant

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul Richards, manager of the high-flying Baltimore Orioles, sums up his team's American League pennant chances:

"To win this thing, we're gonna need two things. One—some lucky breaks that will mean the difference in about three games. Two—some help from the other cubs. They've got to help us beat out the Yankees."

Baltimore 9-0 victory over Cleveland Thursday night coupled with New York's 5-4 loss at Chicago, gave the Orioles a 1½-game bulge over the runnerup Yankees.

As the Orioles departed for Chicago, Richards left behind this message:

"Tell Jimmie Dykes to see to it that his boys get plenty of rest... and have them come out fighting Sunday."

Dykes' "boys" — meaning the Indians—have a doubleheader with the New Yorkers here Sunday. The twin-bill is important to New York—and Baltimore.

But some of the young Baltimore players are convinced the pennant will ride on the four-game series the Orioles open in New York a week from tonight. Those are the final games between the two teams.

"I wish that we were playing 'em in our park," said one young Oriole. "We do better against them there."

The records agree with that opinion. The Orioles have an 8-3 record against the Yankees at home, but have taken only one in seven in Yankee Stadium.

Backyard Gadgets Not from Space

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory has ruled out the possibility fiery objects found in a Hartford, Conn., backyard last Sunday night came from outer space.

After two days of study and analysis, the scientists reported Wednesday night the objects are not fragments of a meteor or space vehicle.

They are, said the report, composed primarily of common compounds and metal that had been subjected to high temperature, and of terrestrial origin.

Refraining from speculation, the report concluded: "The specific origin of the fire remains undetermined."
